

Braelynn's Lemonade Stand of Love

On March 15, 2022, Braelynn was diagnosed with cancer at just 8 months old. After nearly eighteen months of treatment, she received the joyful news on July 24, 2023 — no evidence of active cancer. Now, two years later, Braelynn wants to give back. She's hosting a lemonade stand — but instead of keeping the money or donating it to a large organization, she wants to use every penny raised to buy toys and treats for kids still fighting their battles at the children's hospital where she received her care. This is Braelynn's way of spreading sunshine, kindness, and courage — from one survivor to another.
